Race to the Gauntlet of Power

Michigan Smith, famous archaeologist and adventurer, is in a race to get to the Gauntlet of Power! Roll the die, then move that many centimeters in a straight line. If it's possible to move you have to – even if it's backward! First one to cross the gauntlet wins the prize for the museum.

Players: You need 1 die and a ruler with cm. You can't cross the big black lines, but you can cross your own or each others'. Use different colors if possible. How long is your path?
